Logic (COURSE TITLE)
Chapter: CHAPTER TITLE

PERSON 1

GROUP 1
THE UNIVERSITY/COLLEGE

September 14, 2022

Australian National University

Frame Title

some content of chapter 01!

Frame Title

We can cite entries "inplace" right here:

- J. Slaney. Logic Considered Fun. Tech. rep. CoRR, 2015. DOI: arXiv:1507.03683
- J. Slaney. "Logic for Fun: An Online Tool for Logical Modelling". In: The IfCoLog Journal of Logics and their Applications 4.1 (2017), pp. 171–192

Or we go in the traditional way and just use citations: [1] (short version) and [2] (long version), and then just list the entire bibliography later on. Note that the "inplace" citation also works without printing the entire bibliography later on, but if we want to use standard citation, we need to show the entire bibliography!

Bibliography

Here we show the bibliography!

[1] J. Slaney. Logic Considered Fun. Tech. rep. CoRR, 2015. DOI: arXiv:1507.03683.

[2] J. Slaney. "Logic for Fun: An Online Tool for Logical Modelling". In: The IfCoLog Journal of Logics and their Applications 4.1 (2017), pp. 171–192.

Frame Title

More content of chapter 01!

Frame Title

More content of chapter 01!

Frame Title

There is still more to say in chapter 01

Frame Title

There is still more to say in chapter 01